THE FLOOD SONG

Shattering the Past to Grow to the Future
 The imagery of the flood is downright terrifying: dark, raging waters pummeling Earth for forty days straight, eradicating everything in its wake. Yet, surprisingly, the Midrash sees this turbulent event as a serene song of praise to G-d. What does this dramatically divergent perspective tell us about the tumultuous breakdowns in our own lives? Sail the high sea of Noah's ark to discover the answer.

שְׂמֵחַת בֵּית הַשּׂוֹאֵבָה
Simchas Beis
 Hashoeva

This coming Motzaei Shabbos,
 Tishrei 20, September 29
 10:00 pm – 12:30 am
 To be held at

The Rusanov Sukkah
 28-10 Fair Lawn Avenue

What is שְׂמֵחַת בֵּית הַשּׂוֹאֵבָה? How did they generate enough lighting for the festivities? What were the wicks made from? How was the שְׂמֵחַת בֵּית הַשּׂוֹאֵבָה celebrated? Who would lead the revelry? How did the first mechitza evolve? Why were the celebrations associated with libations on the altar? What would they pour and why? Why would they blow Shofar on Sukkos? How would they recite chapters of Tehillim? Of what relevance are these details to us in today's contemporary society?

Wrestling with Faith

Beginning October 21

Most people, even the most devout, struggle with issues about God. We sit in the synagogue during the High Holidays and affirm the essentials of Judaism in theory, but when it comes to trusting God with our daily lives, we share a secret, painful fear that God isn't really looking out for us.

Many have been brought up under the assumption that mainstream science is incompatible with genuine Jewish faith—so when they see compelling evidence for biological evolution, for example, they feel forced to choose between science and their faith.

Wrestling with Faith was created for tackling questions like these, the "big issues" that keep people from intimate faith with God. In Wrestling with Faith, we acknowledge the often-unspoken doubts and questions that all people share—as we share their invitation for us to dig deeper for the answers.

In Wrestling with Faith, JLI offers a steady and inspiring voice to help us reaffirm and understand our faith in a world where nothing seems solid or permanent. Drawing upon 3,000 years of Jewish knowledge, as well as a storehouse of literary, psychological, and theological insights, the course examines the fears and doubts that challenge us. It is in these struggles to find meaning that the course lays out a path for belief in a world struggling to find faith; but perhaps more important, it helps us find our own rhythm within which to walk that path.

- Lesson 1 – Where's the evidence?
- Lesson 2 – Does G-d really care?
- Lesson 3 – Why do some Jewish practices seem primitive?
- Lesson 4 – Why would a good G-d do bad stuff?
- Lesson 5 – Do religious beliefs contradict scientific discoveries?
- Lesson 6 – How can I enjoy a close relationship with G-d?
